He had been ill for the past ten weeks with a complication of diseases, both lungs and kidney being affected. The deceased has been a resident of Ohio county for sixty years and was once a school teacher. Conductors Lester and Wilson, of the Wheeling & Elm Grove road, were sons of his. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

THIRTY-SEVEN

Of the Late "Sixty-Seven" Entered Pleas of Guilty in

THE LIQUOR VIOLATION CASES

Yesterday afternoon in the Criminal Court, and Were Fined, Previous to Which They had Settled With the Sheriff for Full State Licenses From December First—The Others will Make Their Peace in Court this Morning.

Yesterday afternoon the terms of settlement that had been agreed to by ex-Attorney General Thomas S. Riley, representing the saloonists, and Attorney General Rucker and Prosecuting Attorney Meyer, for the state, were partially carried into effect and the late exciting contest, in which the state was fought in its endeavor to compel Wheeling saloon men to pay the full state license of $350, instead of the "short" ($100) license on which they had been selling whiskey, came to its conclusion.

The matter was presented in criminal court yesterday morning, but through the inability of some of the saloon men to settle with the sheriff for their full state license for the five months commencing December 1, and ending April 21, consideration was deferred until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. When court convened at that hour, thirty-seven of the late "Sixty-seven" had interviewed the sheriff and each paid over his five-twelfths of the $350 full state license, amounting to $145 83, or for the thirty-seven who settled, $5,395 71, in the aggregate.

In court, the terms of the settlement were stated to be pleas of guilty on two "short" license indictments and a pro-rata arrangement of pleas on indictments and a pro-rata arrangement of pleas on indictments for Sunday selling. This arrangement was approved by the court. The thirty-seven saloonists who appeared yesterday, entered pleas of guilty to twenty "short" license indictments and twenty-two Sunday selling indictments, while the formality of entering a verdict of not guilty was entered in the matter of the other indictments, numbering 338. The fines, fees and costs aggregate about $4,000.

The saloon men who did not settle with the state yesterday will appear today, which is the limit for settlement under the terms arrived at at the late conference. The saloon men were frequent borrowing customers at the banks yesterday, many not being prepared to settle without making loans.

In the following table are shown the number of indictments to which pleas of not guilty were received and the number of "short" license and Sunday selling indictments to which pleas of guilty were received and fines assessed:

	Not Guilty.	Short License.	Sunday Selling.	Total Guilty.

A Bicycle Thief.

A bicycle thief struck Sistersville yesterday and got away with two machines. His game was to go to a bicycle dealer and hire a wheel with the understanding that it would be returned in three hours. He worked this on two Sistersville dealers. When the wheels were not returned, the police were given the case and it was discovered that the wheels had been shipped out of town. The Wheeling and Parkersburg police have been notified.
